On this subject a correspondent sends us the following as a specimen of what some people consider.

COMPLIMENTS TO ALDERNEY.

The stupid few who are desperately fighting for their characters by endeavoring to coax or frighten the present Common Council, into confirming the injuity of their predecessors in the matter of Albany street, have committed the felly of appealing again to sectarian prejudice in order to influence Aldermen to take pity upon their hopeless case. The Journal and the Tribune of Saturday, and probably other papers, have an article comparing Episcopalisms to Turks—Christian Priests to Ottoman Ulemas, churches to Turks—Christian Priests to Ottoman Ulemas, churches to Manual and the Provisional Head of the Diocese of New York, to the Hierarchy of Constantinople.
